Court Action Against City Opens Tues.

"Chicken Case" Trial Postponed Pending Cross-Plaint

Answering a writ of mandate filed by C. M. MacGregor, contractor, the City of Albany Tuesday will go into the Alameda County Superior Court to show cause why MacGregor should not be allowed to continue construction of a building, assertedly for use as a "chicken hatchery," at 957 San Pablo Avenue.

In a report to the City Council Monday night, City Attorney Joseph Y. Young reported that Carlton Rank, attorney for MacGregor, had agreed to postpone the writ of mandate hearing for one week.

Pending the hearing, Young will file a cross-complaint in the form of a petition for declaratory relief, asking the Superior Court to interpret and define the assertedly "ambiguous" zoning ordinance about which the "chicken hatchery" problem has revolved for several months.

Proclaimed by Mayor O. C. Yenne, the week of October 9 to 15 will be "Safety Week" in conjunction with "Fire Prevention Week" also named by Mayor Yenne Monday night. "Safety Week" was combined with "Fire Prevention Week" on suggestion of Councilman Benjamin Mowday.

On recommendation of Chief of Police Lloyd Jester, the Council approved placement of John MacCann, former temporary patrolman, on the six months probationary list. Officer MacCann has served one month of the probationary period. On Chief Jester's recommendation, Inspector Charles Hardie was named Acting Chief of Police during Jester's absence as a delegate to the annual California Peace Officers' Association convention in San Diego.

The Albany Association of Insurance Agents were appointed Albany Insurance brokers during the meeting, by vote of three to two. Replying to the Council's request for information concerning establishment of a Carnegie Foundation library here, a communication was read stating that the library fund had been discontinued in 1917. Permit was issued the Albany High School Dad's Club for a free permit to sponsor dances in the Marin School auditorium from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock Saturday nights.

Schools Get WPA Grant

The largest WPA grant ever given to Albany was announced this week as approved, according to word received here from Congressman John H. Tolan, by Superintendent of Schools Allen Keim.

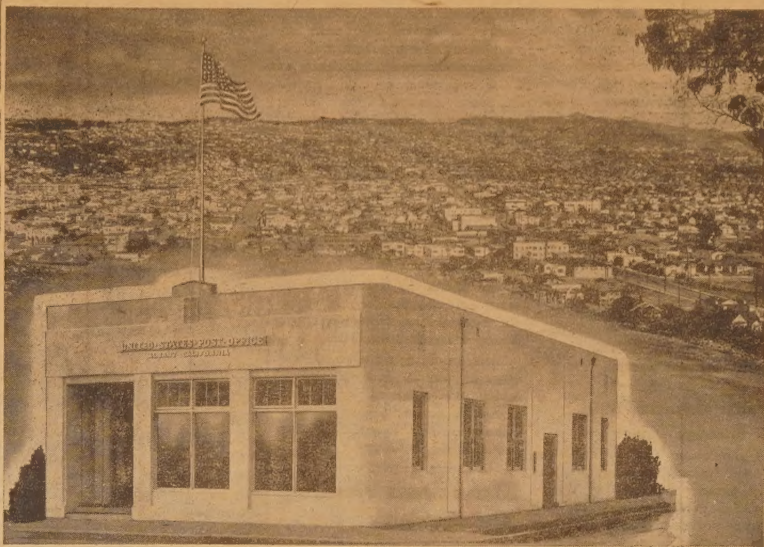

According to the report, Albany schools will receive $7,500 for use in painting, plastering, paving and general rehabilitation the three institutions. The request was made in August by Keim, who asked that the grant be made under a master contract. Previous WPA grants have been $7,000 in 1937 and $4,000 during 1935-36.

Young, Ryan Move Offices

Attorneys Joseph Y. Young, and Rupert R. Ryan this week announced that they have moved their law offices to the Ray building, 1024 Broadway, Oakland.

Mrs. Frances Roy and daughter, Charlotte, of Cornell Avenue moved to Santa Cruz recently, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood McLean. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Roy's sister, Miss Helen McHugh of Chicago.

POST OFFICE CACHET COVER DESIGN

Nearly 2500 stamp collectors from all parts of the country will receive the above design on covers from the new Albany Post Office on or about October 15 when the building is scheduled to open.

Post Office, Cougars to Face St. Mary's Cachet Ready

Arrival of equipment and furniture was all that held up dedication ceremonies of Albany's new Postoffice building today.

First-day cachet cover design printed and ready for delivery, the committee in charge announced this week that the dedication of the completed building will probably take place October 15.

Meantime, Postmaster F. M. Whiting announced that James M. Casey, 25-year veteran of the Berkeley Postoffice, has been appointed supervisor of the Albany branch. Following dedication and opening of the new building, 13 letter carriers and a number of clerks will be assigned to the branch.

Official cachet shown in the accompanying photo, was designed by Ed Morris, committee chairman, and Fred Lennox and will be sent to nearly 2,500 stamp collectors and notables throughout the United States on the opening day.

Fire Sweeps Albany Hill

Destroying approximately 15 acres of brush and grass, a fire swept the west side of Albany Hill Wednesday night, calling Albany firemen to a three-hour battle.

Handicapped by lack of water, firemen extinguished the blaze by beating out the flames with branches, before sparks could reach homes at the base of the hill.

Chest Drive Opens Wednesday Drive to Raise $3,000 for Albany Agencies

More than 150 Albany men and women volunteer workers for the Community Chest were ready today to take the field next Wednesday in the most intensive house-to-house campaign for funds in Albany's history.

Preceding their opening-day drive, workers will attend an "early bird" breakfast Monday morning at the Hotel Whitecotton in Berkeley where Berkeley and Albany Chest agencies will meet before entering the field.

In Albany, workers will meet Wednesday evening at 7:30 when final plans for the Albany drive to raise $3,000 will be discussed.

Released today, a statement from L. D. MacGregor, "General" of the Albany unit, stated that "Community" families of Albany who have their source of income elsewhere and give a portion of their gift where they are employed, might donate a part here in Albany where the benefits of 23 organizations are enjoyed."

Receiving $8212 of Chest funds, Albany is not asked by the Community Chest, MacGregor said, to raise all of the money spent within its boundaries, any more than it requests other residential sections to do so.

Led by "General" MacGregor, officers of the Albany Chest are: Business Colonel, Mrs. Beatrice Raymond; School Colonel, Allen Keim; Residence Colonel, Charles C. Moore; District Captains, Joe Brignall, Carl Nieper, L. F. MacDonald, Harry Dygert; High School Captains, Charles Moore, Eugene Baker, William Woolworth; District Majors, F. F. Hayhurst, Robert McCullough, Henry Villa, Mrs. Lela Brunstein; Joseph Y. Young; Captains, Walter Teasdale, Charles Gruber, Mrs. Arthur Taveira, Ed. Ryken and Aide, F. F. Foster.

Inaugurate New Club Policy

In order that a more full coverage of club, social and community activities may be obtained, The Times this week inaugurates a Club, Church and Organizations page.

Owing to the excellent response given this page on its first issue, we have received an overflow of copy, parts of which we have placed on other pages throughout the issue. In future issues, however, we hope to keep the columns more closely together in order that all organizations may receive the best advantages of the innovation.

Opportunity is taken at this time to request secretaries and organization publicity chairman to submit publicity to the Times Office, 850 San Pablo Avenue, by Tuesday noon. This will insure more accurate handling and placement of submitted material. For information call THornwall 1510.

Winner of today's game will receive a handsome silver cup from Mrs. Beatrice Raymond, President of the Chamber of Commerce, with the provision that the school winning the trophy three times will become permanent owner.

Gael attack today is expected to be centered around the driving punches of "Buzzy" Trebotich, stocky half-back who has scored the greater portion of St. Mary's points this year.

Meantime, Albany went forward this week with a heavy practice schedule which emphasized blocking and tackling fundamentals as well as offensive drills. Joel Guay, will lead the Cougars today as captain.

Quoted at even odds this year, Albany came from behind in 1937 to tie at 13 point score which the Gaels threatened to hang up against them.

Preceding the game today, High School students will rally this morning on the Albany field at 11 a. m., with "Slip" Madigan of St. Mary's at Moraga scheduled to put in an appearance. The afternoon game will start at 3:15 p. m.

Starting lineups are:

Fire Prevention, Safety Week Proclaimed Here October 9-15

Safety Week Opens With Radio Talk

Observance of Traffic Laws Urged by City Police, Mayor

Proclaimed in conjunction with "Fire Prevention Week," Albany will observe "Safety Week," October 9 to 15, with first recognition of the event given today when the Albany Traffic Safety Committee will appear on a radio program.

Speaking on "The Value of a Traffic Safety Commission to a Community," Mrs. Lela Brunstein, Commission Secretary, will be heard over radio station KROW at 5 o'clock this evening through courtesy of a neighboring newspaper.

Most recent move sponsored by the Commission was the suggestion placed before the City Council to have Solano Avenue hill truck traffic to the East Bay highway re-routed down Buchanan Street in order that the hazard of slow traffic on the hill might be eliminated.

Safety Commission officers include Al Ford, President; Walter Teasdale, Vice President; Mrs. Lela Brunstein, Secretary; and Mrs. May Ellis, Treasurer.

Urging citizens to cooperate in raising Albany's record as a "safe" city still higher, Mayor O. C. Yenne asked that motorists observe the week by still greater cooperation with police both in cities and on the highways by following traffic laws in order that the week may be known as "Seven Days of Safety."

The following rules were cited: 1—Be courteous on the road at all times. 2—Obey all laws and traffic rules. 3—Keep your car in good mechanical condition. 4—Do not drive while drinking. 5—Drive at safe speeds.

Girl Struck By Car; Uninjured

Struck down while crossing the intersection of San Pablo and Solano Avenues, 13-year-old Marilyn Ambrose was hurled to the pavement Wednesday evening when she walked into the path of a car driven by William Green, Marin Avenue.

Getting to her feet immediately after being struck down, the girl was taken to the Albany Hospital where she was found to be uninjured. She was taken to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ambrose, 1108 Stannage Avenue.

Green was not held for the accident, Acting Police Chief Inspector Charles Hardie said.

Miss Eleanor Swennes of Portland, Ore., a visitor at the residence of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Hogan of Sonoma Avenue. After being extensively entertained for three weeks, she returned home last week.

Slate 2nd "Crime School" Police to Hold Session October 20

An innovation of the Albany Police Department, the second of a series of "crime schools" will be held by Chief of Police Lloyd Jester Thursday evening, October 20 in the Albany City Hall.

A means of educating Albany merchants and residents and a protection against the expected influx of petty criminals expected to be drawn here by the 1939 Golden Gate Exposition, the meetings are conducted by Jester who has invited prominent East Bay

Johnny Ryan, (above) Albany High School Coach, and Al Collins, (below) St. Mary's mentor, whose grid teams will clash this afternoon on St. Mary's field for the city championship.

COACH COLLINS

150 Here for Reporters' Conclave

More than 150 Northern California Democratic Women Reporters gathered Monday in the Albany Y.M.C.A. Community Center as guests of the Albany Democratic Reporters Club to hear Mrs. Lucetta Del Valle Grady, National Committeewoman, speak on "Foreign Affairs."

Wife of the United States' representative to the League of Nations, Mrs. del Valle Grady spoke on the recent Czechoslovakian crisis, stating that "although the peace treaties reached might not be what all parties deserved, the procedure and steps taken were a step forward in the history of the world."

During her recent stay in Europe, Mrs. Grady was granted an interview with the Pope at Rome as well as with King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of England.

Mrs. Grady is also known for her distinction as the only woman to listen at recent League of Nations conferences.

Opening the day's program Mayor O. C. Yenne welcomed the delegates and presented them with the keys to the city, following which Mrs. Beatrice Raymond, representing the Chamber of Commerce, added to the Mayor's welcoming address.

Mayor Issues Proclamation, Cites Record

Aid Asked by Ahlgren In Prevention Week Program

Taking part in a nation-wide program, Albany will observe "Fire Prevention Week," October 9 to 15 inclusive. The announcement was made today by official proclamation by Mayor O. C. Yenne, acting on approval given by the City Council Monday night.

Hoping to exceed last year's record as the only city under 20,000 inhabitants to receive honorable mention in a national fire prevention contest, plans are under way to hold Albany's fire loss total down to even closed margins than in any previous year, Fire Chief Carl Ahlgren said today.

Educating Albany residences in fire prevention, the Chamber of Commerce, announced that an essay contest may be held this year in Albany schools, while merchants may be asked to take part in a window display contest.

Fire Chief Ahlgren issued the following list of "Don'ts":

Don't permit rubbish or waste

PROCLAMATION

Again the time approaches when throughout our nation, "Fire Prevention Week" will be observed.

I hereby proclaim the week of October 9 to 16 as "Fire Prevention Week" in our city and urge each and every person to lend their most earnest effort and do everything within their power to prevent fires, thereby protecting life and property.

We have been very fortunate indeed the last year on our fire loss, which reached a gross loss of $937.40, or an average of 19 cents for every home. This is a loss of only $11.15 for each alarm answered, which is an enviable record.

I take this opportunity to thank every resident of our city for their splendid cooperation in the last year, and urge you to put forth a more earnest effort to cut our fire losses to a minimum for the next year, and years to come. I know it will not be asking too much of you to cooperate one hundred per cent in "Fire Prevention Week" and extend the same vigilance every week thereafter.

MAYOR O. C. YENNE.

paper to accumulate; burn it, but not near any building.

Don't keep matches where young children can get at them.

Don't be careless with a cigarette or cigar stubs—or matches.

Don't leave oily rags or mops in corners where they may start a fire. Keep them in closed metal containers, or wash and hang them out to dry.

Don't use worn electric cord, or leave electrical appliances connected when finished using them.

Don't store gasoline in your house or use it there for cleaning.

Don't start any rubbish before getting a fire permit. Permits are issued free.

Don't neglect cleaning and repairing flues and chimneys.

"If Albany residences follow these pointers," Ahlgren said, "it will be a long step toward making Albany a safer city to live in. And as an added precaution, I would advise everyone to learn the location of the fire-box nearest his home. It may save thousands of dollars in case a fire should break out."

Hawaiian Tea Enjoyed By Marin Room Mothers

A typical Hawaiian village in miniature, consisting of little grass shacks, palm trees and dusky natives, set the dominant note at the tea given by the Marin P. T. A. for room mothers of the kindergarten pupils at the Marin School Thursday afternoon, September 29.

Also in keeping with the Hawaiian theme was the handicraft, made by the children and displayed by the teachers, the Misses Erna Seeger and Catherine Wittschen.

After the group had been addressed by the dignitaries of the school and P.-T. A., a musical program ensued. It included cello selections, "Traumerie" by Shuman and "Chaminade Espanole," rendered by Mrs. S. R. Daws, who was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Romaine Hunkins; nursery rhymes and "Sleepy Time," the latter a song of her own composition, by Mrs. Jessie Cruickshank, accompanied on the piano by Miss Constance James. A short talk pertaining to speech correction was then given by Mrs. Dorothy Maier.

The hostesses, Mrs. E. P. Schmitt, Mrs. C. E. Hoppe, Mrs. M. Braidwood, Mrs. Charles Monroe and Mrs. S. R. Daws, then served cake and beverages.

Blanche Regalia To Present Joint Recital Oct. 12

A "Joint Recital" by Blanche Regalia, pianist and twelve year old child protegee, and Marie George, dramatic soprano, will be presented in the Webster Little Theatre at 1608 Webster Street on Wednesday evening, October 12th, at 8:30 p. m.

Blanche Regalia began her musical studies in Albany at the age of eight and a year later was performing in public and over the Bay Region radio stations. An ambitious young lady, she has built up a repertoire which would do credit to a musician twice her age. She is an honor student of the Albany Junior High School, and a piano pupil of Mrs. E. Maria Pausch.

Miss Regalia will play "Sonata Pathetique" by Beethoven, the "Passant Les Steppes" by L. Schyette and the "Sextette from Lucia" which is for the left hand only and is rarely attempted by the younger artists.

The recital is another in the series of concerts sponsored by the Federal Music Project of the Works Progress Administration.

Most recent appearance by Miss Regalia was a joint recital in which she appeared with James Lyons, dancer at the Federal Music Theatre in San Francisco, Thursday evening, October 6.

The tickets are being handled under the personal supervision of President William De Puy, who is being assisted by Bob Matta, Jack Sloan, Earl Smith, John Coulson, William Hansen and chairman of all sub-committees.

No advance has been made in the usual admission charge by the theatre and it is expected that the funds raised by this party will enable the Dads' Club to carry out their plans for a most completely rounded out Halloween Program, which will include surprise packages for all children participating in the annual goblins parade.

Garden Hints

Here in the East Bay October is a busy month for the gardener. Most magazines consider October as bulb planting month and although we usually commence bulb planting as soon as they appear on the market, many of us prefer to wait until October. And from now on through December we will continue to make bulb plantings. Bulbs to be planted now include ranunculus, anemones, ixias, freesias, tulips, hyacinths, watonias, German iris, Spanish iris, narcissus, etc.

Try ranunculus this year. They are very satisfactory for cut flowers, lasting about a week in the house. And it might be interesting to experiment with the exotic Japanese iris. These are the tall iris, growing about four feet high and having a wide open flower with broad spreading petals. They say that in Japan, where the growers plant them in almost pure manure and keep them very wet, the blossoms are huge, often being almost a foot in diameter.

There are singles and doubles and purples, lavenders, white splashed with violet, and sometimes pink in colors.

Stocks, pansies, snapdragons and violas may be set out now, and cinerarias and primulas should be planted among the azaleas and rhododendrons.

Plant winter flowering sweet peas now!

An emergency operating room will be part of the hospital equipment at the World's Fair of the West.

Postal Oddities

During the Civil War this country had two separate postal systems. One for the Northern states, the other for the Southern states, yet neither of these systems were able to exchange mail with the other. . . . Naturally the people of both sides were very anxious to communicate with friends and relatives on the other side and not being able to send mail through the regular channels, hired agents to smuggle letters across the borders. . . . Several women earned their livelihood this way by smuggling letters concealed in the ruffles of their skirts across the lines. . . . Perhaps the most famous of these mail runners was Abraham Grimes of Missouri. . . . Three times he was captured and sentenced to die as a spy. . . . He escaped twice and was pardoned the last time he was captured by President Abraham Lincoln who could not believe that a man who carried messages of cheer and good will to relatives and friends, was a dangerous man and a spy of war. . . . Lincoln had a thorough knowledge of the importance of letters and the value of the Postal Service to the people. . . . Long before he ever became President, he was postmaster of the little post office at New Salem, Ill. . . . Perhaps the strangest of all post offices, and certainly the loneliest, is the little post office at Kalaupapa, Hawaii. . . . The lepers of Kalaupapa are considered to be the world's best penmen. . . . They spend long hours writing letters to friends and relatives who are forbidden to visit the island. . . . They average about two letters each per day. . . . Odd, isn't it?

DOG TRACK FOR FOOTBALL FIELD

"Will Albany High School be able to use the turf in the middle of the dog track for their football field? This is a question which has been drifting around the high school for the last several days without being answered. Coach Ryan perhaps started the rumor by stating that Mr. Jerome, owner of the dog track, was asked if it would be possible to use the center of the dog track to play football on. The turf affords ample space for a playing field; and the only thing missing are goals and having the field marked off. "If Mr. Jerome would allow the high school to use the turf, it would be a blessed event for Albany," stated Cleveland Hickman, Boys' League president. The dog track is located just over the Albany-El Cerrito line in El Cerrito.

ALBANY POST

NO. 292

By W. L. HOLLAND

Albany Legion Post No. 292 will definitely go ahead with plans for the Fifth Annual Armistice Day Dinner Dance, November 12.

Arrangements for the event will be made by a committee under George Foley's chairmanship, named at last week's meeting of the Post. The committee, following naming of the date, opened the books for reservations, limiting accommodations to 200 persons.

Chairman Foley asked that members of the Post make reservations as early as possible since public reservations cannot be opened until Post members have selected tables.

"Celebrate Armistice Day as a Member of the American Legion" is the word being passed around to all World War Veterans by Post and Department officials of the American Legion. National Commander Stephen Chadwick asked that every Veteran in the Legion and every veteran eligible for membership join in this 20th anniversary commemoration of the Armistice of the World War.

After two decades, Armistice Day becomes America's newest legal holiday and will be observed this year by all Federal agencies for the first time.

As part of the plan to reward those who have their 1938 membership card in the Legion by Armistice Day, a 20-year commemorative coin is being issued by the National Department in cooperation with State Departments.

The 20-year coin is designed as a pocket piece to be issued to all early enrolling members. It will be the size of a fifty-cent coin and an inscription recognizing early enrollment, on one side and on the other, a reproduction of the American Legion emblem. Initial order for the coins stands at 248,000 to be allotted to the State Department.

Albany, according to 1938 membership records, will be entitled to 57 coins.

Meetings of Albany Legion Post will return to the regular schedule starting Friday, October 7, and meetings will be held the first and third Fridays of each month in the future.

First meeting under the return to schedule will see the Post award to Frank Graeber the Gold Medal for securing the greatest number of members for the Post during 1938. Godfrey Hanson and J. R. "Bob" Moore will also receive medals for their work in the membership drive during the year.

Madeleine School To Hold Benefit

The completion fund of the School of the Madeleine will benefit from a card party to be held in the Parish hall, Milvia and Berryman streets, on next Tuesday evening, October 11, at 8:15.

Bridge and whist will be played, and attractive prizes will be distributed at the conclusion of the evening's games.

A committee of members of Saint Mary Magdalen parish whose names begin with the initials, J, L, M, N, and Mc, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Wm. Monahan, has completed arrangements for the party.

A general attendance of the public is anticipated. Refreshments will be served.

ALBANY ROTARY CLUB

Native life and surroundings of New Mexico Indians was brought before members of the Albany Rotary club at their regular Monday luncheon meeting when color motion pictures were presented by Ben Randall of Oakland.
